GOSS CELEBRATION

N. P. BANKS POST AND CORPS ENTERTAIN FOR BRIDE AND GROOM

The celebration at the G. A. R. hall in Tropico at 11:30 o'clock on the morning of September 28, in honor of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Goss, was a most unique as well as a beautiful affair. Attending the bride and groom were five couples who had previously had their own golden wedding anniversaries celebrated in this same corps of the G. A. R. and in this same hall. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. R. Norton, who was the first pastor of the M. E. church in Glendale and who had Mr. and Mrs. Goss in his first congregation there. The ring ceremony was used, with the same thin gold band which Mr. Goss gave his bride fifty years ago.

The hall was decorated in chrysanthemums and large fern balls, and in the banquet room, where seventy-five guests at a time were seated at the well filled tables, coreopsis and plumosa ferns were used, with the fern balls hanging from the ceiling. Over two hundred guests were present.

Mrs. Queen Danner played the wedding march, and the wedding party were preceded by the aisle by two color bearers, Mrs. Alma Minter and Mrs. Jennie Phillips. Then came the attending couples, Captain and Mrs. L. A. Ross of Los Angeles, who have been married fifty-two years; Mr. and Mrs. Able Dufur of Burbank, married fifty-two years; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pratt of Burbank, married fifty-one years; Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Emick of Glendale, married fifty-three years; and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler of Tropico, married sixty-one years. These were followed by the "bride and groom," Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Goss. Two more color bearers, Mrs. Quintina Hammond and Mrs. Elizabeth Friedman, followed. When all were grouped at the front of the hall the bride was presented with a great bouquet of lovely red roses by Mrs. Winona Crawford. The beautiful ceremony was then repeated, and Rev. Norton added a few suitable remarks. The bride and groom then received the congratulations of the assembled guests.

The wedding party were served first in the dining room, where two bridal cakes, baked by Mrs. Ada Atkinson and Mrs. Jennie Phillips, were cut, one by the bride and one by the groom. In the afternoon an informal and very enjoyable program entertained the guests, Mrs. Ruie D. Meek of Los Angeles especially contributing to the merriment of the occasion with her droll readings. A quartet of the comrades, Messrs. Robert Taylor, J. H. Henry, C. H. Clark and R. D. Goss, sang "The Sword of Bunker Hill" and "A Thousand Years." Comrade Ross made a few remarks and Dr. Lucas of Tropico sang "Little Rose Among the Roses." Comrade J. H. Henry, accompanied by his daughter, Winona Crawford, sang "Seeing Nellie Home." Comrade Henry then presented the bride with the beautiful present from the G. A. R. and W. R. C. of Tropico, a very handsome silver sugar bowl and cream pitcher. Mrs. Meek gave two more readings and the audience sang "America." Rev. Norton made a farewell talk and prayer. Mrs. Burket, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Goss, retains as a souvenir of the occasion a book in which every one of the many guests signed their names and addresses. The committee in charge of this unusually successful affair were: Mrs. Adelaide H. Imier, chairman; Mesdames Winona Crawford, Quintina Hammond, Elizabeth Friedman, Julia Sanders, Margaret Hibbert and Alma Dutton.

ATTEND DANCE

A number of Glendale people attended the dance for Battery F given on Friday evening, September 28, at the Shriners' hall in Los Angeles. Among them were: Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Liddell, Mrs. George Holman, Mrs. Dora Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clement and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Clement of Lindsay, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. White and the Misses Lillian Leppelman, Harriet Baird, Alpha Clement, Lyn Coles, Frances Paine, Barbara Mitchell and Catherine Guthrie.

SOUTH PASADENA SPEEDERS

Five auto speeders were called before Police Judge Crump in South Pasadena last Wednesday morning and fined in the aggregate $40. About thirty-two miles per hour was the average rate of speed in the business section of the city.

FOR DRAFTED MEN

RECEPTION FOR LIBERTY BOYS AT HIGH SCHOOL THIS EVENING

At 7:45 this evening an entertainment and reception will be tendered the drafted men who may leave for training camp October 3 or 16 next. Accurate information is not yet available from the Exemption Board which is reviewing the work of our local board and invitations have been sent to all, including those who may yet be let off.

The local chapter of the American Red Cross is responsible for this entertainment, which will be under the direction of their Entertainment Committee. A pleasing program has been prepared, not least of the items in which will be the part under the direction of the Refreshment Committee.

The Committee on Comfort Bags, who have worked so hard to fit out hundreds of the boys—regular, guard and national army men—is expecting to have a supply of their handy bags ready for those who deserve them.

This affair is free to all, and there will be no collection. The high school auditorium should be packed to the doors. Tell your friends and come—tonight at 7:45.

1000 GLENDALE FOLKS TO HEAR SUNDAY

Thursday evening has been set aside at the Tabernacle in Los Angeles as Glendale night, and it is expected that at least 1000 residents of this place will take advantage of this opportunity to hear Rev. Sunday on this occasion. The report comes to us that the entire center section of the Tabernacle has been reserved for Glendale and that there will be plenty of room for all those who care to attend, providing they get there by 7 o'clock.

Special Pacific Electric cars will leave the corner of Broadway and Brand boulevard at 6 o'clock. These cars will carry the passengers within about a block of the Tabernacle and will remain there until after the service to convey them home. The regular fare will be charged—25 cents round trip and 15 cents for one way. It is expected that these cars will be more than filled so that all those wishing to go should be on hand early in order to make sure of seats. Glendale residents going down in automobiles or otherwise excepting in the electric cars may secure badges of admittance at the Tabernacle by calling at Door 20.

EXEMPTION BOARD INVITED TO GLENDALE

Pursuant to a resolution passed last Thursday night at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce meeting, the following letter was sent to each of the three members of the Exemption Board, to Chairman John T. Wilson, San Fernando; Secretary Mattison B. Jones, Glendale, and R. D. Lanterman, La Canada:

"Glendale, Cal., Sept. 28, 1917. "Dear Sir—At a public meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce last night it was unanimously resolved to invite the Exemption Board for the Seventh district, Los Angeles county, California, to locate its headquarters in Glendale, and to offer the board the use of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce rooms free of charge. The president and secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce were requested to formally notify you of the invitation, and to state that it is done believing it to be for the best interests of Glendale and the wishes of Glendaleans.

"Respectfully submitted. "GLENDAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

"By A. T. Cowan, President. "Walt. Le Noir Church, Secretary."

FOUR YEARS OLD

The Evening News is just starting on its fifth year of existence. There are many friends of the community daily who have indicated a desire to assist in building up a stronger community paper. In response to this desire the week commencing Monday, October 8, will be designated as a time for all who wish to aid in building up a stronger daily paper to do so. In South Pasadena and in other cities of like population daily papers have been discontinued for lack of patronage. The publication of the Evening News will not be discontinued, but the citizens of Glendale will be given an opportunity to assist in extending its circulation and in increasing its advertising patronage. Remember, next week will be important as the Evening News booster week.

SINGING IMPROVES

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH CHOIR LEADS IN SPLENDID CONCERT SATURDAY

There is no doubt that the Community concert Saturday evening was the most satisfactory yet enjoyed in Glendale. Mr. Blake Franklin and the First Congregational church choir merited the congratulations received, as did "Coffee King" Booth. But not the least interesting quality in that good concert was the number of fine voices scattered through the audience, all four parts being well represented—the pervading sopranos and the clarion tenors being most in evidence.

There seems to be little doubt that when the Billy Sunday campaign is over, and from the four corners of Glendale even the half of her singers are gathered for community singing, the results will be as gratifying as astonishing to a great many music loving Glendaleans. Then when Glendale wishes to get up some grand Red Cross or other patriotic entertainment where a large trained chorus is desirable, the problem will be easily solved, for the addresses and capabilities of most of our singers will be known.

The choir was represented by Mesdames C. M. Van Dyke, A. R. Chappell, S. R. Frazee, Hartley Shaw, Messrs. Lewis P. Abell, A. R. Chappell and Blake Franklin, chairman of the Choir Association. The choir sang "Onward, Christian Soldiers" to a more difficult tune than is commonly known—one arranged for a trained choir. "America," "Sailing," "Red, White and Blue," "Those Endearing Young Charms" and "The Star-Spangled Banner" were well sung by choir and chorus, ably led by Musical Director Mr. Chappell. "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean," by Mr. Blake Franklin with chorus, and "My Old Kentucky Home," by Mr. Abell with chorus, made us feel like we were going to college again and out serenading. Mrs. L. P. Abell was the pianist.

Mr. Frank Booth gave numerous friends who had not before heard his sweet and powerful, well-trained high tenor voice, a most agreeable surprise singing "Killarney," "Love's Old Sweet Song," and in response to an insistent encore, "The Soldier's Farewell," which was particularly timely, as was "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean," sung by Mr. Franklin.

Some one objected to singing these songs at a former concert, on the ground that they are too sad. But faced by a condition, American patriots face it bravely, and expression is preferable to silent grief.

It is hoped that some time Messrs. Booth, Franklin, Abell and Chappell might treat the concert goers to a quartet. It would be worth going miles to hear.

Rev. Mr. Willisford wanted to know why on earth he was asked to talk on "Community Singing," as if a regular Congregationalist preacher could not talk on any subject with little or no notice. His witty, entertaining talk was the best justification for being so placed on that program. He said he could not carry a tune if it were strapped to his back, or words to that effect. So it is well that he was not listed for a solo song instead of a monologue. He claimed, however, to partly know two songs; one is the Doxology, the other isn't. He cannot even talk in a "sing-song" voice. Helps account for his popularity.

He told of the grand community singing in Naples, and even in small towns throughout Europe, which draws the people together in closer popular ties than are found in America as a rule. He hoped to have more community singing in Glendale, for it certainly does develop the get-together spirit—something needed. The Community Concert next Saturday evening in the high school will be under the management of Miss Alice Frank and Mr. Spencer Robinson. Of course that spells "brilliant success."

Note—At Mrs. Gibson's Community Concert, the Saturday previous, it was not Mr. Julius Kranz, but Cecil Crandall whose violin so delighted the audience.

VISITING HIS PARENTS

Homer L. Bullard, who has been away from Glendale for several months, is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Bullard, 1555 Salem street. Mr. Bullard has been drafted and will be called to American Lake within a few days. His work at Big Creek, Cal., in the big Edison power plant, where he has been promoted to floor manager of power house No. 2, has been very interesting. With his father he visited friends at Dead Man's Island on Sunday.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

LABOR FEDERATION CONSIDERS SAN FRANCISCO BOMB MURDER CASE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., October 1.—The San Francisco preparedness parade bomb murders loomed as one of the big questions before the annual convention of the State Federation of Labor when it opened here this morning. Some 700 delegates representative of all affiliated unions in the state, are on hand for the convention, which gives promise of being marked by much important action. Resolutions have been prepared covering the San Francisco bomb murder cases, the chief point being a request to Governor Stephens that he co-operate with President Wilson in the forthcoming investigation of the conviction of Thomas Mooney. Just as last year's convention held at Eureka marked a new departure in the policy of organized labor when a representative of the Japanese labor unions was given the floor of the convention, this year's convention will have a step nearly as radical—a conference on Wednesday between representatives of the organized farmers of California and the federation delegates. Until this time there has been a germ of antagonism between the farmers and unionists, but this conference has for its purpose the formation of an alliance between the two vital classes, covering legislative and political questions. This morning's session was marked by the presentation of the various committee and official reports. A feature of the executive council's report was a vehement criticism of Governor Stephens' action in vetoing the anti-injunction bill during the last Legislature. The criticism was written by Andrew Furuseth. The report characterizes the last legislative session as "a stand-up battle between organized labor and the would-be union busters of the state." The report concludes (Continued on Page 4)

ENTERTAIN YOUNG MUSICIANS

A very delightful garden party was given on Saturday afternoon by Miss Ina Whitaker at her home on Ninth street for her junior piano pupils and the choir boys of St. Mark's church, where she is organist. Croquet and outdoor games and sports were enjoyed on the lawn and the young guests were regaled with ice cream, cake and punch. A musical game was played and William Huesmann won the prize, a box of candy, and had to give a piano solo to console the losers, after which all joined in singing "America." Seventeen children were present and the following ladies: Mrs. Le Roy Bosserman, the choir director; Mrs. H. Peck, the choir mother; Mrs. J. C. Sherer and Mrs. Henry Ponting and Mrs. Reeves of Los Angeles. Mrs. J. L. Whitaker and Mrs. Reginald Whitaker assisted the hostess in receiving and entertaining.

HOUDYSHEL'S ARMY EXPERIENCES

Mrs. S. Houdyshel, 1539 Hawthorne street, is in receipt of a letter from her son, Harold whose company—formerly called the 7th and now known as Company C, 160th, U. S. N. G., has recently been transferred from Arcadia to Camp Kearney at Linda Vista, Cal. The letter, in part, follows:

Dear Folks—Well, we arrived here O. K. Tuesday. Have been pretty busy for the last three days. I couldn't come home Sunday, as you probably know by now. No one was allowed out of camp after Friday. In fact, we had to do a lot of packing and work Sunday and Monday. We left Arcadia Monday at 8 p. m.

This is quite a camp. I guess it must be about three miles across. There are 4702 civilians working here at the last count. We sure have everything fixed up nice. We have floors in our tents raised one and a half feet off of the ground. Each company has its own showers (hot and cold in a few days), washrooms and, last but not least, their own mess hall.

The mess hall has the kitchen in one end with large ice chest, two big gas ranges with ovens, tables, benches, electric lights, etc.

We are to drill eight hours here, and I don't think we will get much liberty. It is eleven miles to San Diego, and about the only way to go is on auto stage, and there are hardly enough of them to accommodate the civilians. Probably we will get enough leave to go to Los Angeles about once a month or six weeks. I think we will be here a year at least unless the war ends before then, which I hope it will.

Signed,

HAL.

FOREST SERVICE THANKS WOMEN FOR HELP IN FIGHTING FOREST FIRES

Three Arizona women have received the official thanks of the Forest Service, in the form of a letter from the Acting Forester, for services rendered in fighting forest fires. They are Mrs. O. P. Schoenberg, of Portal, Arizona, and the Misses Lillian and Hildagarde Erickson, of Cochise, Arizona, who last June and July assisted Forest rangers in suppressing serious fires which burned over about 24,000 acres on the Chiricahua division of the Coronado National Forest, in Arizona.

At a time when all the available men were needed on the fire line, officials of the Forest Service say that Mrs. Schoenberg, who is the wife of Forest Ranger O. P. Schoenberg, took over the work of securing labor, handling the telephone exchange, and thus keeping the various crews in touch with each other, and running the commissary for the large force of laborers employed on the fire. She also arranged for the disposition of the men at the different fire-fighting crews and fed the newcomers on their way to the fire. It is stated that her excellent judgment and initiative were of material assistance in extinguishing the fire.

The Misses Erickson, daughters of a Forest ranger, took an active part in the fire fighting. They organized and set to work one crew of men and aided in securing others. On one occasion, by actually fighting fire all night, they relieved a crew which was urgently needed at another fire. In addition, they carried food and water to the men on the fire line, who otherwise would not have had anything to eat.

TAKING CARE OF THE SAMMIES IN FRANCE

Stretching back overland to the sea the American line of communications is a constantly swelling artery vital to the life of Sammy training here in the field. Sammy knows he gets 18 ounces of white bread every day but he doesn't know much about where that bread comes from. He gets clothing from the quartermaster and his rations from the company mess. If the supply is plentiful and the quality good Sammy doesn't bother his head much about how it was brought up to him. But the auxiliary people know.

The bakers know they stood out in the open all day and tended the field-ovens far from the infantry training fields, to make the bread. They unloaded the big sacks of Minnesota flour from the railroad trucks that run right into the middle of the bakery. And they carefully slashed the loaves right down the middle to let out the gas before putting them in the oven.

That little slashing operation looks simple, yet it was decided on only after hours of study by the officer in charge who wanted to save room in the bread cars. Formerly each loaf was slashed four times across the top. When the crust formed the intersections of these slashes raised up about an inch and the bread transport involved a great many wasted inches of space in the cars. The new slash is just as effective in releasing the gas and it saves one half of the wasted space.

Suppose a grenade goes off prematurely in a practise trench and Sammy's arm is gashed to the bone by a fragment. The surgeon at the hospital bathes the wound with antiseptics, binds it with a special kind of bandage and puts the patient to bed in a comfortable hospital cot.

Sammy thinks of his own tough luck in being wounded but takes it as a matter of course that all that medical paraphernalia is right on hand all these miles from home.

Day by day that line of communication is growing, shooting out new spurs to supply the branches of service scattered along both sides of the trail. The bases are bulging beyond their original dimensions but even today the whole system is only in its infancy.

General Pershing and his staff have visualized a vast enterprise which has to be run on a military business basis in order to feed and clothe the great army that will be here in France when we get into the trenches. Shells will come up along these lines and be pushed forward to the guns and the thousand and one kinds of supplies and equipment that a great army constantly needs must be kept moving in undiminished quantity.

CALIFORNIA FEEDS ARMY

California dried fruits, by millions of pounds, are being purchased by the United States government to provision the new national army, now assembling in training camps. Vast quantities of canned California fruits also are being purchased by the government.

When food conservationists were urging Californians, earlier in the year, to conserve the fruit crop, that it would be needed and that there would be ready market for it, some were skeptical. Some believed that there would be oversupply of dried and canned fruits and that the market would be glutted. But it is apparent now that the conservationists were right. There is active demand for California fruits and other products which are preserved in such a manner as to make them suitable for provisioning troops. This demand will continue.

WEAVER'S TRANSFER TO SHORTSTOP

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The transfer of Buck Weaver back to his old position at shortstop in the White Sox lineup, with McMullin at third base, simply adds to the predominance the Chicago team enjoys over the Giants' infield.

With Weaver at third base and Risberg at shortstop the Sox topped the Giants at second base, were overshadowed at shortstop, had a probable edge at first base and were stood off at third. Now the Sox have an advantage at second base and shortstop, a probable edge at first base, and are topped only at third base, where it is considered by most persons that Heinie Zimmerman's experience and hitting ability places him far above McMullin, a youth.

McMullin may hold his own as a fielder with Zimmerman, although there isn't a third baseman in the game who can handle the bunts and slowly hit grounders as Zimmerman can. It is certain death at first base to drop one of these in front of Zimmerman. He has the art of scooping up a grounder with his bare hand reduced to a science, and the strength in his arm makes it almost certain he will get him man.

McMullin can't do that kind of playing—yet. But, on the other hand, it has been men of just his type who have shown to such tremendous advantage in world's series contests. In the quartet of games the White Sox won from the Cubs back in 1906 it was youthful George Rohe who subbed at third base and was the hero of the series.

Weaver is a natural shortstop—the greatest in the game just now. He and Roger Peckinpaugh of the Yankees simply eclipse other shortfielders now doing duty. Fletcher, though a brilliant hitter and a remarkable fielder, never could cover the ground or work with the speed of a Weaver. The transfer gives the Sox strength where most critics were inclined to believe they would be weak.

It was a lucky day that Clarence Rowland decided to switch his lineup and retain McMullin at third base.

A lot of derogatory comparisons are being made nowadays about Benedict Arnold.

GET EDUCATION

The opening of the schools and colleges serves to emphasize the enormous importance, this year in particular, of all forms of practical education. The very fact that we, along with most of the rest of the civilized world, are engaged in a great war, is a powerful reason for devoting more attention to education than ever before.

It is accepted as a matter of course that the public schools will continue their usual work, with slight modifications. It is the high schools and colleges that are most subject to disturbances due to the war. Great numbers of college men have enlisted or been drafted. Many boys have enlisted from the upper classes of high schools. Entering classes are generally large, but there is less assurance than usual that the freshmen will continue through their courses. There will be, from now on, more temptation to drop out.

There is danger in the very readiness of students to volunteer for public service. There is danger in anything that will deter boys and girls from going to the high school and college, and staying there until they are fitted for some branch of expert and useful activity. After the war the world is going to need educated men and women more than ever before. There will be new problems to face and enormous tasks to accomplish. Trained minds will be essential for the reconstruction and development to which we look forward.

Technical education especially takes on new value. The whole world is hungry for technical experts. There are not enough men and women in any of the engineering professions today. The demand will be greater than ever when peace comes. And any student who is engaged in mastering any of the technical, utilitarian branches of learning is serving his country no less than if he were fighting in the trenches.—Whittier News.

CO-OPERATING WITH FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

Co-operating with the federal government and the United States shipping board in their endeavor to recruit 10,000 navigation officers during the coming year, the committee on scientific research of the State Council of Defense is helping to furnish instructors for navigation schools at San Diego, San Pedro, San Francisco, Portland and Astoria, according to a report rendered to Governor Stephens, chairman of the State Council of Defense, by the committee. Dr. John C. Merriam, of the University of California, is chairman of the scientific research committee. Instructions in these schools is under the general direction of Professor A. O. Leuschner, of the department of astronomy, University of California, and a member of the committee on scientific research. The course in the navigation schools covers a period of six weeks. Instructions cover the theory of navigation and the use of instruments. Two years' sea experience is required before admission. Mate's and master's licenses are granted upon successful completion. In addition to the five navigation schools in the cities named, courses also have been organized under the University of California extension division, and two of these already have been opened with an attendance of more than 150 students.

DENVER MINT WORKING OVERTIME

The Denver mint, supplying the sub-treasures at St. Louis, Chicago and New Orleans, is working two shifts of eight hours each these days, in an effort to double its normal output of silver coins. The plan is the result of orders from Washington, to meet an unprecedented demand for silver coin, due to the influence of the war on financial markets and to heavy fall crop movements.

The Denver mint last year turned out 1,014,400 half dollars, 3,270,400 quarters, 264,000 dimes, and 35,956,000 pennies.

Miss Dorothy Wilde, 409 West Third street, spent last week with friends at Long Beach.

Miss Mary Austin, of the First National Bank, spent last week very pleasantly at Long Beach.

Mrs. H. D. Eachus and Mrs. Marvel of Orange Grove avenue spent Friday at Mrs. Giddock's, at Eagle Rock.

The friends of Mr. H. D. Goss, 714 West Fifth street, who has been very ill, will be glad to know that he is steadily improving.

Mrs. Ada Atkinson, who has recently returned from a visit in the East, has moved from 314 North Maryland to 821 West Fifth street.

The Altar Guild of St. Mark's church will meet tomorrow, Tuesday, at the church at 2:30 p. m. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stone, from Hollywood, have come to Glendale to make their home. They are now living at the De Luxe apartments, on Brand boulevard.

Mr. G. B. Singleton, 1418 West Third street, is recovering from his motorcycle accident of last week. His injuries have proved not to be serious, though painful.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Longmire have recently moved to 553 Palmer avenue, Tropic, from their former home in Santa Barbara. Mr. Longmire is connected with Barker Brothers, in Los Angeles.

Among the boys from the coast artillery who were back in Glendale for a good time Saturday evening were Sergeant Harry Chandler, 304 1/2 South Brand boulevard, and "Bobby" Dewar, formerly of Tropic.

Mr. James F. McBride, young Glendale attorney, whose law office is now in Los Angeles, and Mr. Harry Francis, assistant cashier at the First National Bank, Glendale, spent the week end at Mr. McBride's cottage at Long Beach.

The J. O. C. class of the First Methodist church, Glendale, will hold their first regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, October 2, at 7:30 o'clock sharp, at the home of Mrs. Claud Case, 105 Maryland. All members come.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clement, North Pacific avenue, have been entertaining for the past week their son, Mr. E. F. Clement, with Mrs. Clement and their baby, and also Mr. and Mrs. A. Kaufen, father and mother of Mrs. Clement, Jr. The party motored down from their homes in Lindsay and returned Sunday morning.

Professor and Mrs. Ralph Benton of Los Angeles entertained a party of friends for the week end at their cabin in Verdugo Canyon. Professor Benton, who is now with the United States biological survey, formerly taught at U. S. C., and has many friends and former pupils in Glendale. The guests were Mrs. J. L. Kirkpatrick and her daughters, Misses Lena and Frances, and Mr. Dana Burket of Glendale.

The Tropico chapter of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen held a "hard times" dance in the Yeoman hall on San Fernando road in Tropico on Friday evening September 28. Mrs. Langmyer, of 553 East Palmer avenue, who is a newcomer in Tropico, took the ladies' first prize, and Mr. Ed Shipman, 523 Grace court, won first prize for the gentlemen with his very realistic farm attire. Busch's orchestra furnished the music and the refreshments were good.

Dr. and Mrs. McIntyre, 142 South Central avenue, entertained several guests from San Diego, their former home, during the past week. Mr. John Allen McHenry, who drove up in his Cadillac, made a short visit the first of the week, and later Mrs. George Champlain stopped over a day on her way to New York City to say goodbye to her two brothers, who are soon to leave for France. One of Mrs. Champlain's brothers is a surgeon in the navy.

Mrs. Charles N. Williams, 1228 Maple street, and her daughters, Olive and Ruth, and her son, Paul, and Miss Blanche Curtis, 1012 1/2 Broadway, made a motor trip on Sunday to visit Mrs. Williams' son, Harold, who is the forest ranger at Dry canyon, at the head of Aqueduct lake. The party also had a most enjoyable visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Smith, who have charge of the aqueduct, in their cottage there. A picnic lunch was much enjoyed and moonlight rowing on the lake completed a most enjoyable day.

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Farrow, 1314 Doran street, who have recently returned from their vacation at Long Beach and Sunset Beach, have been entertaining Mrs. C. L. Eckel of La Jolla, formerly Miss Florence Robinson of Glendale. Captain Eckel, of the 115th Engineers Corps, Camp Kearney, joined his wife for a week-end visit. On Sunday Dr. and Mrs. Farrow took their guests for an extended motor trip, seeing Glendale and the surrounding country from the mountains to the sea. Captain Eckels, who is from Colorado, was delighted with the California scenery.

BAZAAR AT WHITE HOME

The bazaar for the benefit of the playground of the Columbus avenue school which was given by the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher's Association on Thursday afternoon, September 27, at the home of Mrs. J. Robert White, 101 South Orange street, was a decided success, both socially and financially. The decorated tables out under the trees lent a very festive appearance to the grounds. The mothers were so generous in their contributions of pretty and useful things to sell that, even after the generous buying by the many friends present a number of bags, aprons, dollies, lace caps, etc., which make splendid ammunition for Christmas "preparation" are still with Mrs. White to be sold on demand. Besides a good time socially, the committee provided a most enjoyable program, which follows:

Salute and singing of "Star-Spangled Banner"—Audience.

Russian dance—Sarah Chandler, Barbara Blech.

Brief address by President of the Federation of P.-T. As., Mrs. Arthur Brown.

Song—Fourth grade children.

Dante, "The Spirit of Peace"—Sarah Chandler, Barbara Blech, Marjorie McLouth.

Roll call of mothers.

Dance—Miss Edith Lindsay, of Pasadena.

CRYING ABOUT THE WAR

Many mothers are making matters much worse by weeping day in and day out about their sons. War is bad enough without adding any extra sorrow before anything has actually happened. Anna Steese Richardson in the October Woman's Home Companion, quotes a letter written to her. The writer of the letter says:

"Like most mothers who have given sons to their country, I go out when I can to divert my thoughts. And what do I hear? A friend inquires whether I have heard from my boy and adds: 'Well, I never expected to see the time that I would be glad my three children are girls, but I am now.' My next hostess comments on the sadness of our finest young men being sacrificed."

"At prayer meeting last night the leader in the voice usually reserved for funerals, spoke of our boys at the front, and was followed by another speaker who solemnly announced the well authenticated rumor that our boys are taking their coffins with them to France. Next a woman related with harrowing details how her father went to the Civil war, never to return, often stopping to regain her self-control. And the meeting closed with the most melancholy hymn in the book. I feel as if I never want to go to prayer meeting again."

—Alhambra Advocate.

AND THAT WAS ALL, SIR

"Well," said the far West mayor to the English tourist, "I dunno how you manage these affairs over there, but out here, when some of our boys got tied up in that bankrupt telephone company I was tellin' yer about, they become mighty crusty."

"Oh!"

"Yes, they didn't like the way the receiver was handlin' the business no-how."

"Indeed!" commented the earnest listener; "then, may I ask what they did?"

"Sartinly; I was goin' to tell yer They just hung up the receiver."

ESTHETIC? SURE, MIKE!

Two fair munition workers were discussing their personal affairs.

"Got a chap yet Liz?" inquired one.

"Yes, and he's a regular toff. He's manager at—"

"You don't say so! Why, they tell me he's real refined."

"Rather! Why, he took me to a restaurant last week, and when we had coffee he poured it into a saucer to cool it, but he didn't blow it like common people would—he fanned it with his hat!"—Tit-Bits.

HEAVENLY INTERFERENCE WANTED

Marion was saying her prayers.

"And, please, God!" she petitioned, "make Portland the capital of Maine."

"Why, Marion!" said her shocked mother. "What made you say that?"

Marion settled herself comfortably in the bed.

"Cause I made it that way in my zamination papers," she said, "and I want it to be right!"

WILLING TO DO HIS BIT

"You have shown a good deal of impatience because our government has not been able to get a big force over to France right at the start. If you are so eager about it, why don't you enlist?"

"I'm too od. They wouldn't accept me."

"Well, if you had a son, would you want him to go?"

"I haven't any son, so it's idle to speculate on what I'd do if I had one, but I have a son-in-law whom I will be glad to sacrifice for my country's honor."—Dayton News.

ARE WE SPIRITUAL SLEEPERS?

Rev. Vernon H. Cowser delivered discourses at both the morning and evening services at the local Baptist church yesterday. The morning message was delivered to the "spiritual sleepers" of his congregation, this city and in fact all those who might come under this head. Rev. Cowser took for his text the eleventh verse of the thirteenth chapter of Romans, which reads as follows: "And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep, for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed."

The discourse was, in part, as follows:

"It is indeed high time that we should awake out of our sleeping. There is sleeping in a spiritual way just as surely as there is sleeping in a physical way, and it is just as easy to take on the spiritual sleep of which I am talking as it is to partake of what we term in a physical sense as sleep. Sleep is death's next door neighbor."

"Let us see what the signs of sleep are. First, sleep is denoted by inactivity; next, it is insensibility to impressions; then again, it is ill-time effort or somnambulism. These are signs of spiritual sleep just as surely as they are of physical sleep. When sleep comes, one ceases to follow his daily avocation—all business is terminated so far as the sleeper is concerned. This is the same with spiritual sleep. The man who is spiritually asleep ceases to work. If a fellow is spiritually dead it is impossible to awake him, but if he is only sleeping he may be revived—awakened. Put the question to yourself, 'Have I done anything for Christ that will prove that I am spiritually awake?'"

"Next Sunday is the beginning of a new church year. Look at yourself. Do you find anything in yourself that signifies spiritual activity? There is no work that a Christian does that ought not be for God. If your business cannot be conducted for Christ you ought to get out of it. Our everyday business may be made an effort for God, just as much as actual work in God's house. Our daily avocation is sacred and everyone should realize this fact. Is there work of a spiritual nature? Indeed there is, but there are certain of us who are called to bake cakes in God's name, while some others are called to win souls. Both of these are equally important in the estimation of God, if the motive behind them is right. Is it true that you have no use for the preacher except to be entertained or fed, when your whole thought should be to grow into the knowledge of God?"

"A sure sign of spiritual sleep is insensibility to impressions. It is surprising amid what racket some people can sleep. What about your sensibilities to spiritual impressions? Too few people work for and in the church out of pure love for God, notwithstanding the fact that God so loved the church that He gave His son for it."

"Is it your demand that the church stand for spiritual things? The church is just as spiritual as its members. If the members of the church are spiritually dead, that church is likewise dead. It is just like Billy Sunday says, 'If you are alive you know it, and if you are dead everybody else knows it.'"

"Are you sensitive to the little sins—the sins of your private life, of which no one else knows? You know, it is the little foxes that spoil the vines. I am sick and tired of the complaint of those who are forever seeking to pick the mote out of their neighbor's eye, when all the while they have a beam within their own eye. Do you spend as much time confessing your sins to God as you do gabbling about your neighbors? Ill-time effort means to be continually going about in a circle—nothing is ever accomplished; no progress in any definite course is made."

"The Baptist church stands for a three-fold salvation—deliverance from sin, deliverance from the power of sin and salvation yet to be revealed when Christ shall appear for His bride. This is the hope in which we ought to live. If Jesus Christ came today would you be ready, or would He find you in the theater or in some other questionable place?"

"This is the time we should ask the watchman, 'What of the night?'"

"His answer would doubtless be, 'The day dawneth.'"

"Let us be wise virgins; while others are slumbering and sleeping let us be awake and watching for the reappearing of Christ. Let us not be dead or even sleeping, but ever up and doing in the service of our Master."

The subject of Rev. Cowser's evening sermon was "The Lost Boy."

SUNLAND

Entertain for Bride-to-be

Mrs. L. T. Rowley very beautifully entertained with a shower Thursday evening for Miss Marie Lancaster, who is to be married some time in October to Mr. Harold Murry. The Rowley home on Hill street was beautifully decorated in ferns and flowers. A large number of guests were present and left many tokens to show the high esteem Miss Marie is held at in Sunland.

Our forest ranger, Mr. Frank Bates, had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse by slipping over the bluff on the trail to Mt. Gleason. It fell down a steep cliff and was instantly killed.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hitchcock are in Sunland looking after the crop of mountain cling peaches on the Hitchcock ranch.

Mrs. H. B. McNabb spent Monday and Tuesday at Red Cross headquarters in Los Angeles, planning for the extension of the Red Cross work in Sunland.

Mr. Paul Johnson is home on a five days' furlough.

Mr. Thomas Jay of Wallace, Idaho, is in Sunland this week, the guest of Mr. Shirle Kincaid.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist Church entertained the Ladies' Aid of Tujunga at a luncheon in the beautiful Monte Vista Park Thursday.

Mr. Darwin Kirschman, who is attending Throop College, will be home Saturday to celebrate his birthday and will bring his room-mate for the week-end.

A. C. Riddel will take possession of the hardware store the middle of next week. His former connection with the hardware business will give him an advantage in buying.

Notes from an Ambulance Boy's Letter

The camp of the Ambulance Corps at Allentown has been the victim of many rumors lately. Here are samples:

We are to have a 30-day furlough to go where we please.

We are to be sent south for winter quarters.

We are to be sent to work with the Russian army.

We sail in a few days for France. However, we are ordered on a practice march and that settles the rumors for the present.

Had a fine visit with Chancellor (Livingston), who came up from Philadelphia to see me.

GUESS

A little girl who made frequent use of the word "guess" was corrected for it and told to say "presume" instead.

A lady friend, noticing the admirable set of the little girl's apron, asked something in regard to the pattern.

"Mamma doesn't cut my dresses and my aprons by pattern," said the small lady. "She just looks at me and presumes."

THE WHOLE THING

A soldier in a hospital on recovering consciousness said: "Nurse, what is this on my head?"

"Vinegar cloths," she replied. "You have had fever."

After a pause:

"And what is this on my chest?"

"A mustard plaster. You have had pneumonia."

"And what is this at my feet?"

"Salt bags. You have had frost bite."

A soldier from the next bed looked up and said:

"Hang a pepper box to his nose, nurse; then he will be a cruet."

THE GREAT MAN

The great man feels with the people but does not follow them.

He maintains his independence of thought, no matter what public opinion may be.

He is quiet. He does not strive nor cry out.

He knows and trusts the cosmic spiritual forces and is not impatient.

He thinks clearly, he speaks intelligently, he lives simply.

His ethics are for the future, not traditional and of the past, nor conventional and of the present.

He always has time.

He despises no human being, nor any other creature.

He impresses you much as the vast silences of nature impress you, as the sky, the ocean, the desert.

He has no vanity. Seeking no praise, he is never offended. He always has more than he thinks he deserves.

He is teachable, and will learn even from little children. He is not anxious to teach others.

He is not welcome in any sect, cult or party, for he is more desirous of understanding than of opposing the other party.

He is rarely elected to anything.

He works for the joy of it, not the wages.

He cannot retaliate, for he cannot descend to the level of them that love to do harm.

He lives in a certain self-sufficient aloofness, so that your praise or blame does not seem to reach him.

Yet his isolation is warm, and not cold. He is keenly alive to human relationships and influences. He loves. He cares. He suffers. He laughs.

When you find him it is as if you had found a real human being among myriads of animals. All of the simple, strong qualities of the normal soul shine in him, with no pettiness.

You feel that what you have, such as your money or position, is nothing to him, only what you are; and that if he likes you it will be not at all for anything you do, say or pay, but for what your soul is within you.

He changes his opinion easily when he sees his error. He cares not for consistency, which is the fetich of little minds, but for truth, which is the sum of great souls.

He believes that every man comes at last unto his own, and is not impatient.

Bitterness, cynicism and pessimism, which are tempers of pettiness, he has not; but love, cheer and hope abound in him, for these are always the by-products of greatness.

When you love him, you yourself become great; for there can be no greatness that is not the cause of greatness in others—Dr. Frank Crane, in the Bulletin.

INSTITUTION FOR YOUTHFUL CRIMINALS

As an outgrowth of the murder of Mrs. Emile Turner, aged Berkeley woman, by two boys recently, a demand is to be made on the State Legislature that California provide an institution for the care and detention of youthful criminals such as the two boy murderers.

Attorney Donald McClure, who represented the boys—John Baker and James Fee—has announced his intention of presenting the matter to the Legislature. The boys have been sent to the reform school at Whittier, that being the only action possible under the present California laws.

"I hope that this case will prove a precedent and impress on the people of this state the necessity for having a special institution where boys like Baker and Fee will be placed under pathological observation so their youth and vitality will not be thrown away," McClure declared.

"It is abhorrent to think of placing young boys in penitentiaries with hardened criminals. On the other hand, it would be unjust to send them to an insane asylum because, while it is dangerous to have boys who are liable to commit murder at large, I believe a great many of these boy criminals are the victims of heredity.

"I have taken certain cases and observed them for some time and have discovered they will be entirely sane in every way but one, perhaps. In most cases it is really pitiful to see these youngsters carried on in spite of themselves. I believe this to be, in some cases, due to physical causes which could be remedied by proper treatment.

"I intend to take the matter up at the next session of the Legislature. California has no provision for the criminally insane. New York has a special institution for such cases, and I believe we should take this step in the proper direction.

NO WAR GLORY FOR INDIANS

Apparently the blanket Indians are not to have a chance to fight for their country. In the first place, only a negligible number of Indians who have adhered to their old tribal customs are of draft age, and in the opinion of government officials "they probably would not fit in with the highly specialized and rigidly routine system of fighting in France."

Time was when the methods of warfare of American Indians considerably affected the "system of fighting" of the French and English forces. It is possible that if enough were left to form a brigade its record on the firing line would compare favorably with that of the French Foreign Legion. But these are vain imaginings. The fact for remark is that the Indians of pure stock who have resisted the encroachments of civilization and kept aloof from the pursuits of the paleface have lost their birthright in the process. At a time when nearly the whole world is at war, when Turks and Arabs and Hindus are in the fray, the race to which fighting is second nature is denied the opportunity to follow its primeval trade.

Alas, the poor Indian of the unconstructed order! He has witnessed the corrupting influence of peace and wealth on his brethren. He sees them drawing dividends from their oil stock, subscribing to Liberty bonds, paying income taxes, riding around in Ford cars and sending their sons to college to play football. He meantime has remained in his tepee a brave, true to the traditions of his race and keeping in training by periodical forays from the reservation to shoot up a few cowboys. And his reward when there is real fighting to do is to be passed by.—New York World.

UNCLE SAM'S LIVELIEST ROOTER

LONDON Sept. 10 (by mail).—Although he lives in the oldest inhabited house in England, T. Maguire is by no means a Tory. Also doubtless because he is Irish, he is one of the liveliest rooters for Uncle Sam this side of New York.

Sitting in the picturesque garden of his eighth century home, overlooking the ruins of the ancient Roman city of Verulamium, Maguire read in his evening paper that the Sammies were on the morrow to parade in London in force. Next day he was among the first and noisiest of the record breaking crowd in Trafalgar Square that cheered the passing Sammies.

Only a few days previous he had had an argument with a narrow-minded fellow townsman concerning America's coming in. The latter had opined that Uncle Sam was actuated by dollar motives and had held off until he was sure that with his assistance the allies would win. Retorted Maguire:

"That's no way for the likes of you to talk. When America says she isn't after indemnity or territory, what grounds have you—especially you—for such an ungrateful assertion? Don't you think America shows her unselfishness when she says she is willing to pour out her blood and treasure, and is sending her sons of the Pilgrim Fathers, the Irish exiles, the Scotch Crofters and English artisans, who are mostly the victims of English junkerism, to save you and the like of you from your half-brother the Hun, at whose shrine you have worshipped for so many years?"

MERCHANT SHIPS MUST DON WAR ARMOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Beginning tomorrow, every vessel leaving the United States for European and Mediterranean ports will have to obey Treasury Department regulations relative to armament, fuel and smoke screens and painting to obtain invisibility which have been adopted as a part of the plans of this country and the allies for dealing with the German submarine menace.

The vessels must be armed in accordance with the recommendations of the Navy Department. The Bureau of War Risk Insurance will charge an additional rate of 1 per cent on each voyage of vessels failing to comply with this requirement.

Each vessel must be painted in accordance with one of the systems that are recommended by the Ship Protection Committee of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. Ship owners are free to select any one of the approved methods of painting their vessels, but it must first be submitted to and receive the approval of the chairman of the Naval Consulting Board.

Each steamer at time of sailing from the United States must carry a sufficient supply of approved smokeless fuel to carry her for not less than two daylight periods, this coal to be used during the daylight runs while within the submarine zone. Steamers equipped with an approved system whereby the vessel may be operated without the emission of visible smoke from her stacks are relieved from the above requirement.

All vessels must carry on deck one dozen approved smoke boxes, which will evolve smoke when thrown overboard, thereby increasing the vessel's chance of escaping behind the wall of smoke.

The War Risk Insurance Bureau reserves the right to decline to insure vessels whose owners have not, in the opinion of the bureau, made a satisfactory effort to comply with these requirements.

by declaring "it is certainly encouraging to be able to report substantial progress for labor and a dead standstill for the exploiters."

The state of California paid out $260 in August to hunters who succeeded in killing mountain lions. One hunter bagged two females and collected $30 for each, instead of the $20 paid for males. The counties in which the lions were killed are: Kern, four; Mendocino, two; Placer, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Shasta, Sonoma and Ventura, one each.

The petrified body of a woman—Mrs. Anna Griggs, buried in 1912—was exhumed at the old Helvetia cemetery here. The body weighed 400 pounds and was as hard as stone and the color of cement. The shape of the body was remarkably well retained. The hair was in fine condition but fell from the head like a wig when the body was raised. It took six men to lift it from the grave.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 1, 1917.—California began recruiting her volunteer dollars today, to help America make the world safe for democracy. A thousand prominent Californians gathered at luncheon at the Palace hotel and launched the second Liberty loan drive. From now until the drive closes dollars will come rolling into the banks for the use of Uncle Sam. There will not be a hamlet in the state which will miss the opportunity to enlist its riches. James K. Lynch, governor of the federal reserve bank, presided at the luncheon today, while M. H. de Young, John A. Britton, C. C. Moore, Archbishop Edward J. Hanna and P. J. McCarthy impassioned appealed to the patriotism of California to answer Germany's challenge with speedy subscription—even over-subscription—of the Liberty loan. The drive which started today is conducted by an organization even more elaborate than that which conducted the last drive. More than fifty volunteer speakers will tell the people of every California town of the Liberty loan. In practically every county seat campaign managers will direct the taking of subscriptions and local organizations every supplement to work of the central council. The twelfth federal reserve district made an enviable record in the first campaign. Greater success is foreseen for the second.

SACRAMENTO Cal., Oct. 1, 1917.—The single tax will be on the ballot again at the state election in 1918.

Initiative petitions are being circulated through the state by single tax advocates to place the measure on the ballot, providing that public revenues shall be raised by single tax on land values.

The first petition received by Secretary of State Jordan was submitted by Edgar Tremper, an old soldier at Yountville, Napa county.

It was not accepted, however, as Tremper failed to first file the petition with the county clerk of Napa county and it was sent back to be properly certified.

In order to place the measure on the 1918 ballot 74,131 signatures must be secured. The single tax measure has been voted on at every state election since the initiative was given to the people.

Supervisors from fifteen counties at a conference with the state highway commission here unanimously adopted the plan of the commission for the division of $3,000,000 to aid these counties in constructing seven highways.

The counties now will proceed with the work of building the highways as far as the funds will permit, each county bearing its share of the expense.

Malcolm C. Glenn, superior judge of Sacramento, has defied the new indeterminate sentence law passed by the last Legislature.

Judge Glenn, who is the first jurist in California to question the act, believes that the law encroaches upon the proper jurisdiction of the courts and that it is invalid.

The judge says he is going right ahead and sentence convicted men as in the past. The first men to be given determinate sentences by Judge Glenn were: Adolph Lyons, sentenced to five years for grand larceny, and Philip Randolph, sentenced to five years for burglary.

John Cullen proved himself thrifty perhaps, but not prudent, when he pulled the iron hitching post from in front of Sheriff Gormley's office and attempted to take it away.

Cullen told the policeman who arrested him that he intended to sell the post for junk.

SAN FRANCISCO—High school students of San Francisco gathered at Sutro baths this afternoon for the fifth semi-annual swimming championships of the San Francisco Athletic League. Athletes from Lowell, Lick-Wilmerding, Mission, Cogswell, Polytechnic, St. Ignatius, High School of Commerce, Humboldt evening high school, Sacred Heart and other finishing schools take part.

The big wood and canvas auditorium in which the California Land Show will be housed was practically completed today, ready for the exhibitors to come in Monday with the preparation of their displays. During the last two weeks the management has received ever increasing numbers of applications for exhibits and the co-operation of official and semi-official bodies has given a great impetus to private exhibitors. The state viticultural commission is to have one of the big exhibits, while Petaluma egg day has been announced as another feature.

UNCLE SAM WOULD LIKE TO HAVE YOU—

Eat less pastry.

Don't limit the food of growing children.

Don't eat more food than is needed.

Cut down the amount of wheat flour breadstuffs you have been in the habit of serving your family, and increase the graham, oatmeal, corn meal, bran, rye and whole wheat bread and biscuits.

Put the loaf of bread on the table at each meal and cut each slice as it is wanted.

If there is any dry bread left over, cut it in squares, toast or brown it until crisp and serve as crotons with soup, or crumb it by rolling it or running it through the food chopper, put in an airtight jar, and use the crumbs to thicken stews and to sprinkle over made dishes which are to be baked in the oven.

Have one wheatless meal a day.

If each person weekly saves one pound of wheat flour it means 150,000,000 more bushels of wheat for the allies.

Buy flour in small quantities and protect it carefully from spoilage.

Eat cereals to reduce food costs.

Don't throw away a drop of milk. Use buttermilk and sour milk for cooking and making cottage cheese. Use less cream.

Use left-over cereals to thicken gravies and puddings.

Don't waste sugar.

Eat less candy.

Don't stint sugar in putting up fruit.

If everyone in America saves one ounce of sugar daily it means 1,100,000 tons per year saved.

Don't waste fats.

Reduce the use of fried foods.

Soap contains fats—don't throw away the little pieces.

Don't buy or serve veal. A steer produces from 800 to 900 more pounds of beef than a calf does veal.

Don't kill or cook lamb. Let the lambs live to produce their full amount of wool for clothing.

Have one meatless day a week.

If we save an ounce of meat each day per person we will have an additional supply equal to 2,200,000 cattle.

Eat fish.

Use less wheat, meat, milk, fats, sugar and fuel; more fruit, vegetables and foods that are not suitable to be sent to camps or firing lines.

Preserve, can or dry fruits and vegetables.

Buy food that is grown close to your home.

Burn fewer coal fires and use wood when you can get it.

Gather all the odd pieces of wood for fuel.

Save the fuel.

Double your use of green stuffs and improve your health.

Store potatoes and other roots properly and they will keep.

Buy perishable food from the neighborhood nearest you.

Watch your garbage pail. A full garbage pail means an empty dinner pail.

Economize systematically. — In Woman's World for October.

AMERICANS SEEING AMERICA FIRST

ESTES PARK, Colo., Sept. 30.—American people didn't forego their vacations because of the war. Instead they "saw America first." And, according to figures compiled by the Colorado Tourist Bureau, most of them came to the nation's playground—the national parks. An accurate check shows more than 100,000 tourists visited the parks during the season. Automobiles to the number of 16,695 traversed the mountain drives of the national beauty spot.

THAT TERRIBLE AFTERTHOUGHT

Montague Glass has a friend in the cloak and suit business who was describing to a coreligionist the glories of his new country place on Long Island.

"You should only see the dining room, Hermie," stated the proud proprietor. "Such a beautiful room! and so large! Believe it or not, Hermie, in that dining room of mine twenty-four people could sit down together for dinner at once—God forbid!"—Saturday Evening Post.

YOU COULDN'T BLAME HIM

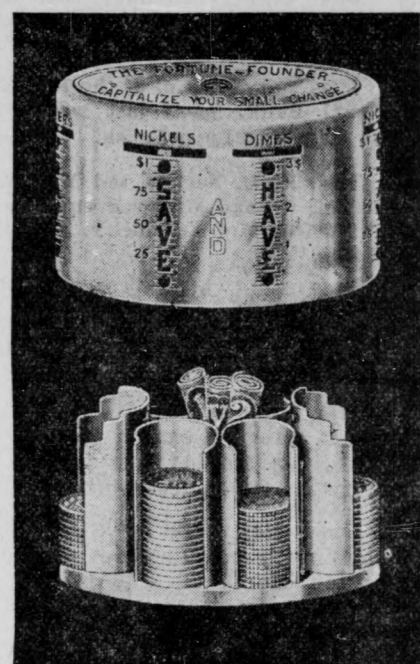

There was a great commotion in hades. His Satanic Majesty looked down on the riot and shouted:

"Whatinhell is the matter down there?"

"There's a guy here who objects to these German submarines being called 'pirates.'"

"Who is it?"

"His name is 'kidd.'"
